What we claim for “The Deluxe Hang Around Bait Holder”:

A personal, convenient, stable and safe device for holding, transporting and having readily available cut and live fishing bait including two appendages, one, to hold tools to assist the fisherman and, two, a beverage holder that attaches by hanging from the railing of a boat, pier, dock or stands alone on a flat surface of any fishing area which comprises:

- (a) A container being box-shaped with including a bottom wall, front, back and first and second side walls, defining a principle chamber with an open top;
- (b) Two “J” shaped brackets/handles/arms extending upward from the main body of the device, facing in opposite directions enabling the device to attach and hang to the railing of a boat, pier railing, dock railing or any other fishing area with any railing type of structures present. The “J” shaped brackets/handles/arms provide stability in turbulent sea/wind conditions. The device may also be placed on a flat surface when/where no railings are readily available;
- (c) Two appendages, one on either side of the box-shaped container incorporating a tool holder for pliers/knives etc., and a beverage holder sized to accommodate a variety of sizes of beverage including cans, cups and bottles;
- (d) Interchangeability by allowing the device to hang from railings with either of the two appendages on the side of preference (left handed/right handed) of the fisherman.
